

United Nations
Association of Australia

A Century of Milestones: Women and Justice in Queensland

Tue, 18 Jul 2017 5:30 PM - 8:00 PM @ Parliament House Brisbane.

NFAW and UNAAQ are partnering in organizing a function to celebrate A Century of Milestones for Women and Justice.

It will be held at Queensland Parliament House from 5.30pm on Tuesday 18 July, kindly hosted by Hon Di Farmer Deputy Speaker of the House.

1. Welcome
2. UNAAQ was gifted an indigenous anthem.
3. Hon Di Farmer opens the events setting the scene for a century of milestones.
4. Dr Mary Crawford, retiring President for the National Foundation for Australian Women will share insights from her terms in office and the broad range of women’s public policy initiatives.
5. Donnell Davis will share the renewed role of UNAA and the importance of the empowerment of the whole of community (through the voices of women), reflecting Sustainable Development Goals 5, 8,10, and 16.
6. Thanks and close.

Please arrive at 5.30 for the formal security process with your photo identification. The attendance charge is $35 per person covering refreshments. You can book at Eventbrite. For further info: 0432978230

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/a-ccentury-of-women-and-justice-tickets-34875494543>

photos
--------	--	--	--

<https://unaagld.tidyhq.com/public/schedule/events/14428-100-years-of-milestones-women-and-justice-in-queensland-with-national-foundation-for-australian-women>

A Century of Milestones: Women and Justice in Queensland